Create-Your-Own-Set game-board cards

CREATE-YOUR-OWN Dragon War Expansion

Just as the name implies, this set enables all of you wanna-be Dragon War creators to design your own game-board cards. On one page we supply the cool graphics of wizards, dragons heroes and damsels, and let you fill in the names of the characters and the actions of the squares. And on this page, we got lazy and decided to make you do it all.

You can draw your own darn graphics, name 'em, and then design the squares to rock your friends with. Note: Creative people have used photos to laminate their friends and loved ones onto these cards to really bring them into the game!

The image displays six identical blank game-board cards arranged in a 2x3 grid. Each card is enclosed in a thick dark blue border. At the top of each card is a small white rectangular header box. Below the header is a large, empty white square. At the bottom of each card, the area is divided into three vertical columns by thin black lines. Each of these columns contains several horizontal light blue lines, providing a grid for writing or drawing.
